Auto Supply Replenishment System® (ASRS)

We Make Printing Easy

You’re busy — and that’s why you shouldn’t have to worry about your printers running out of toner, what inventory you have on-site, or what supplies to order from which vendors. Taylor is proud to introduce a simple way to supply your laser printers: The Auto Supply Replenishment System.

Through a simple three-step process, we ship your toner when you need it and where you need it.

1. Install our Data Collection Agent to monitor your print devices for low toner
2. Create a customer profile and include device location
3. Let the Data Collection Agent and Auto Supply Replenishment System begin tracking device supply status and shipping your toner

The proprietary ASRS data analysis considers several elements before processing an order for toner:

- Evaluation of device usage over various periods of time
- Review of device data, including page coverage, percentage of toner remaining, cartridge yields, etc.
- Gathering of data through exclusive algorithms to determine number of remaining days of toner

Our Auto Supply Routing ensures the correct toner is sent directly to the device owner at the address identified during the initial discovery phase.

Your Benefits

The Auto Supply Replenishment System takes the guesswork, frustration and extra cost out of supplying your printers. The process is simple and the benefits are substantial. Automatic ordering, shipping and device location labeling for accurate delivery of printer supplies means:

- No need to process POs
- No misordering of supplies
- No “rush” or overnight ordering
- No early replacement

Reduced Supply Costs

- Toner page-yield compliancy — guaranteed to meet stated page yield based on coverage
- Eliminate excess in-house supply inventory
- Just-in-time ordering helps maximize toner usage
- Better use of working capital
- Reduce risk of “shrinkage” (theft) of supply inventory

Sound too good to be true? It’s not. Contact us today to get up and running with the Auto Supply Replenishment System.

Imaging and Printer Supplies

OEM Toner and Inkjet

We’ve dedicated significant resources to developing the highest-quality MICR solutions, meaning every Taylor toner cartridge has been engineered and tested to provide the finest MICR output available. Our toner cartridges are always 100% guaranteed to maintain that critical quality you depend on.

Taylor MICR cartridges for laser printers offer:

- Consistent high-quality output
- Special MICR toner formulation to match critical printer characteristics, such as engine heat and speed, and MICR font characteristics
- Thoroughly tested on multipass bank reader/sorter equipment to ensure precise MICR output
- Reliable, controlled signal strength
- Durable, smear-resistant
- Meets or exceeds ABA/ANSI standards
- Toner, drum and developer incorporated into one cartridge for convenience and easy maintenance
- Full technical support
- Compatible MICR toner offering page yield as good as or better than OEM

Paper Rolls

Taylor offers a complete line of stock rolls for point of sale (POS) and automated teller machines (ATMs) to meet the highest solution standards and maximum printer performance. An extensive range of widths, lengths and packaging variations are available. We also offer a variety of custom-printed rolls to meet customer requirements in industries such as retail, hospitality and banking.

Thermal Transfer Ribbon

For shipping, compliance, in-plant and other general purpose labeling, our resin-enhanced wax ribbons produce deep, dark barcodes, text and graphics with maximum readability. Developed to print best on paper and low-end synthetics, our compatible wax ribbons are easy to use and do not require printer adjustment.

Applications: Shipping, shelf and bin labeling, warehousing and receiving, shipping/addressing, compliance, textiles, and apparel tags.

High Durability

Our wax/resin ribbons produce images with higher durability to withstand rough handling and occasional chemical contact. The ribbons perform on a wide range of label stocks from coated paper to smooth synthetic films. When you need an image to really last, our resin ribbons provide maximum resistance against abrasion, heat, steam, chemicals and solvents. For printing on high-end films such as polyester and polyimide, our resin ribbons deliver maximum durability in the most extreme environments.

Applications: Automotive, healthcare, slide labeling, pharmaceutical, horticulture, lumber, outdoor, industrial, chemical drum, electronic components, asset tracking, compliance, WIP tags/labels, shelf/bin labels, warehousing/receiving labels, UL/CSA.

Fax and Copier Supplies

We offer a complete line of fax/copier toner and photoconductors to meet all of your needs. Our lineup includes supplies for manufacturers such as Brother, Canon, Okidata, Panasonic and Ricoh.

Impact Ribbons

Our complete line of impact printer ribbons from vendors such as Epson, Okidata, Printronix, Dataproducts, Citizen, Lexmark, Olivetti, Printek and Star Micronics allows Taylor to be your single source for impact ribbons.

Office Supplies

We have more than 100,000 items from over 1,000 manufacturers stocked in 84 facilities nationwide. We offer next-day delivery to more than 98% of the U.S. population on most of the items in this category at no cost to you. We also maintain a 99% fill rate on stocked items. Delivery is via UPS® in most cases; other carriers may be used depending on manufacturer and product limitations.

Stock Labels

Nobody carries more stock labels than Taylor. We offer one the largest selections of stock labels in the industry, including thermal transfer labels, direct thermal labels and laser labels. Stock labels ship the same day for all orders received by order cutoff time. Our stock label program offers a large variety of stock labels to meet all your needs.

Thermal Transfer

Our thermal transfer labels feature soft matte, ultra-white face stock for maximum printability and reliable error-free scans. Featuring high-bond adhesive, our labels are ideal for packaging, warehousing, shipping, receiving, work-in-progress and inventory management applications.

Integrated Form-Label Constructions

Improve efficiency and reduce costs by combining labels and forms. The unique peel-out labels of integrated label forms make them ideal for multi-function applications including: pick/pack lists, warehousing/inventory, return merchandise, prescriptions and return address labels. We offer many stock options but can also create custom label and form combinations to fit your unique needs.

Impact/EDP/Pin-Fed

Dot matrix, or impact printers, remain a common method of imaging labels. Our pin-fed, impact/EDP pin-fed labels are specifically designed to work with these types of printers.

RFID-Enabled Labels

Taylor offers a wide selection of RFID-enabled stock labels and RFID printers. Our RFID labels selection supports many industry printers and includes a variety of RFID manufactures. Special pricing is available for orders over 100,000 labels.

Direct Thermal

Our direct thermal labels feature ultra-white, high print-contrast face stock for maximum printability and reliable error-free scans. Direct thermal labels are ideal for shipping, receiving, case labeling and work-in-progress labels. No ribbon is required, providing a cost-effective method of processing labels.

Cut-Sheet, Laser and Inkjet Labels

Taylor offers a selection of competitively priced stock laser, inkjet and integrated labels. Our labels are specifically designed for superior performance in desktop laser printers, high-speed laser printers and inkjet printers. Our special manufacturing processes ensure that the labels “stay flat” during the printer’s sheet feeding process enhancing your productivity. We also offer extensive custom capabilities to satisfy your unique applications.

Labor Law Compliance Poster Service

By law, all U.S. businesses are required to display up-to-date federal and state labor law postings, including replacement posters when labor laws change. In a single state, you may have to post up to 20 mandatory employee postings for federal and state compliance.

With ComplyRight™ Poster Service, you receive a federal and state poster set in a consolidated format for immediate compliance with the latest posting regulations. You then receive replacement posters each time a mandatory posting regulation changes during your subscription year, at no additional charge.

Keeping up with labor law postings is easy — if you're a ComplyRight™ Poster Service member. The pace of labor law changes is brisk: Approximately 75 state changes are issued by multiple government agencies (up to nine different agencies per state) every year. The government does not provide a one-stop shop for these posters, and does not notify businesses when posting laws change. Without a poster subscription service, you're responsible for tracking these ever-changing posting regulations and contacting the appropriate agencies directly to get updates.

Fully Compliant Posters Backed by Legal Experts

Backed by our 100% Compliance Guarantee, our posters are developed and monitored by a team of employment lawyers and legal researchers to ensure strict compliance with posting regulations, including content, size, font and color requirements.

Protection Against Fines

Are you aware that your business can be fined for improper or outdated postings? Neglecting to comply with federal posting regulations can result in fines of up to $17,000 per location. What's more, failure to post could weaken your defense in an employee lawsuit.

Start Saving Your Company Time and Money

Enroll today and check labor law posting compliance off your list of pressing employer responsibilities.

Easy, Online Account Management

A self-service, password-protected website provides instant access to essential account information. You can log on 24/7 to track poster shipments, change protected location information, monitor your account status and get details about current labor law changes.

Supplies Value Plan Program

Sign up for our Supplies Value Plan and you'll significantly reduce your costs on every order.

Lower Prices

Volume agreements give us operational economies that we pass on to you. As a result, you receive the same discounted price whether you purchase one at a time or one hundred. And you don't have to worry about unforeseen price increases because pricing is guaranteed for the life of the agreement.

Greater Control

Eliminate the hassle of dealing with multiple suppliers, purchase orders, invoices and payments. The Value Plan puts the power in your hands for increased control over your supplies program by allowing you to consolidate your business supply purchases, and reduces your administrative time and cost.

Guaranteed Satisfaction

The Value Plan, like our products, is based on your 100% satisfaction. If you are not completely satisfied, you have the right to terminate your agreement at any time.

You don't have to be a huge company to enjoy these benefits — your annual volume will likely qualify.
