Golf Events

The golf event is no longer your typical four-man scramble with a hot dog at the turn. These events have turned into wonderful brand recognition opportunities for any business. Allow Taylor to design, produce and deliver the best “golf-themed” ideas for your next golf event. Producing a memorable event will ensure golfers return year after year. Taylor can brand all aspects of your event to raise brand awareness and ensure your logo is highly visible, creating a lasting impression.

TRADE SHOWS

From concept to design through delivery, Taylor is your single source for all your trade show and recruiting fair needs. Allow our experts to select the perfect promotional items to entice attendees, generate booth traffic and say thank you to booth visitors. The ideal promotional product will evoke the necessary emotions to leave a lasting impression with the recipient. This is achieved by a booth representing your organization's brand while providing a giveaway that creates awareness and complements the trade show initiative.

EARTH DAY

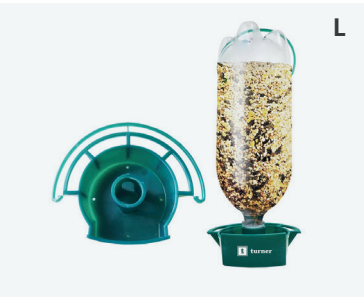

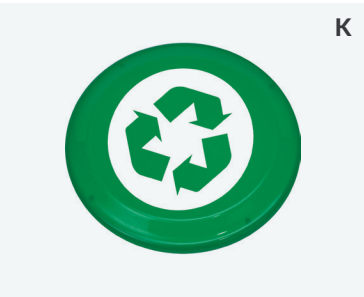

This beautiful planet should be celebrated year-round. However, Earth Day occurs every April and provides organizations a wonderful platform to show off their green initiatives. Having a green footprint in modern times is extremely important. Adding your logo to products that demonstrate your company's environmental agenda will place these goals in reach and suggest to the community that you are serious about going green. Allow Taylor to source recycled and sustainable products for your next Earth Day celebration and other eco-initiatives.

HEART MONTH

Every February we observe American Heart Month. Community outreach and your organization's heart health campaigns are enhanced with the use of promotional products. Great ways to demonstrate support include community walks, blood pressure screenings, healthy cooking classes and Wear Red Day® participation. Allow Taylor to assist you in reaching your company heart month initiatives through award-winning promotional marketing strategies.
