Innovative Technology Solutions

Taylor Healthcare offers a central point of access to quickly create and order from the latest catalog of compliant assets — anywhere, anytime and from any device. Our profiling application enables customized distributions of POP materials and campaigns by location and demographics to create tailored, personalized patient experiences.

Industry-Leading Inventory Control Processes

We ensure accuracy and compliance by following stringent processes across a nationwide network of distribution centers. Not only does this create business efficiencies by allowing scalability and vendor consolidation, it also ensures your materials arrive on time and undamaged.

Robust Systems to Track Metrics

Taylor Healthcare knows that distribution costs can be a major contributor to the total usage cost of an item. That's why we employ robust systems to track metrics that will improve your distribution and sourcing to reduce costs and improve profitability. We regularly capture and report information such as ordering patterns, real-time inventory statistics, optimal storage locations and shipping velocity. We'll even recommend more cost-effective production methods to improve your bottom line.
